AUBREY – A BRIEF BIOGRAPHY

The ultimate party entertainment:

Aubrey Parsons has established himself over the last 25 years as a powerful and exciting singer performing alongside such legendary acts as The Stereophonics, Charlotte Church, Midge Ure, and Catatonia, as well as at thousands of weddings, clubs, and prestigious hotels across Europe. Aubrey has also performed in a number of musicals including shows on television and in the west end. His legendary performance of the opera classic 'Nessun Dorma' brings even the toughest of men to tears! He is a larger than life vocalist who controls every show with his awe-inspiring voice and in-between-song banter. Aubrey has entertained audiences nationwide numerous prestigious events and has performed live to audiences of over 8.5 million viewers on a number of national TV shows; but he is equally at home in a small pub, club, hotel, and has even been known to perform in a few living-rooms across the UK!

Aubrey has worked with:

ITV, HTV & Granada, BBC Television, Midge Ure, The Stereophonics, Strictly come dancing, Real Radio, Radio One, Gary Bromham (Co-Writer with Shery Crow), Roland UK Ltd, Damon Hill (and his band The Six Pistons - Lead Singer) The Watchmen, Fat Barry's Soul Band, Catatonia, Charlotte Church
